

SANE OR INSANE

THAW'S CHANCES ARE BRIGHTER Unwritten Law Has NO Part in Discussion of the Jury.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—DISTRICT ATTORNEY JEROME AND THE ATTORNEYS FOR THE DEFENSE WERE OF THE OPINION AFTER THE JURY RETIRED A SECOND TIME THAT A VERDICT OF SOME SORT MIGHT BE EXPECTED WITHIN A SHORT WHILE.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—THE THAW JURY ASKED PERMISSION TO HAVE SOME PORTIONS OF DELMAS'S SUMMING UP ADDRESS READ TO THEM BUT THE JUDGE WOULD NOT PERMIT IT, SAYING IT WAS NOT IN THE EVIDENCE.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—THE THAW JURY ALSO ASKED TO BE INSTRUCTED AS TO WHAT WEIGHT SHOULD BE GIVEN TO OPINIONS BASED ON HYPOTHETICAL QUESTIONS. JUSTICE FITZGERALD HAD THAT PART OF HIS CHARGE IN WHICH HE SAID THE OPINIONS WERE NOT TO BE GIVEN THE SAME CONSIDERATION AS FACTS READ TO THE JURY.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—THE THAW JURY ASKED FOR A READING OF THE JUDGE'S INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING THE TESTIMONY OF THE DEFENSE'S ALIENISTS.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—AT 2:44 O'CLOCK JUSTICE FITZGERALD RETURNED FROM LUNCHEON.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—THE THAW JURY HAS COME INTO THE COURTROOM. IT IS SAID THEY WANT MORE TESTIMONY READ TO THEM.

NEW YORK, APRIL 11.—THE THAW JURY RETIRED AT 3:29 P. M.

NEW YORK, April 11.—After deliberating for more than eighteen hours without being able to reach an agreement, the jury into whose hands the fate of Harry K. Thaw was given at 5:17 o'clock yesterday afternoon, reported before Justice Fitzgerald at 11 a. m. today and asked permission to examine a large number of exhibits introduced during the trial and also asked to have read to them the testimony of several of the eye-witnesses to the tragedy.

THE EXHIBITS.
Among the exhibits called for were the letters which Thaw wrote to Attorney Longfellow shortly after, it was alleged, Evelyn Nesbit told him in Paris the story of her relations with Stanford White, and the will and codicil which Thaw executed on the night of his marriage. The letters and will were introduced by the defense to show the mental storm which it is claimed was brought upon the defendant by the story the girl related, the jury also asked for the diagram of Madison Square Roof Garden as it was the night Thaw killed White.

This diagram was held up before them as the court stenographer read from the official record the testimony given by James Clinch Smith, brother-in-law of White, to whom Harry Thaw talked for more than an hour the night of the tragedy; the evidence of Meyer Cohen, the music publisher, whom Mr. Dolmas had quoted as saying that Thaw after he had sent White to his death, held out his arms in the shape of a cross as a priest might do at some sacrificial ceremony; the testimony of Henry S. Plaise; of Paul Brudie, the fireman who disarmed Thaw; of Warren Paxton, the engineer of the roof garden and other witnesses.

REFRESH MEMORIES.

The action of the jury in asking for the particular exhibits and the testimony indicated, led to much speculation as to what the trend of their long discussion had been.

One of the widely-discussed theories was that the jury either wanted to refresh their memories as to the testimony tending to show either deliberation or premeditation on the part of Thaw, or else they wanted to have the story of Thaw's actions the night of the tragedy rehearsed once more in order that they might judge as to his sanity. The suggestion of the latter purpose seemed to be given weight by the fact that they desired to examine the letters, the will and the codicil brought forward by the defense in support of its claim of insanity.

SERIOUS DIFFERENCE.

It was generally conceded that serious differences of opinion had developed among the jurors as to the evidence and that a verdict of any sort was still remote.

Thaw faced his judges today with every indication of confidence. He, of all the members of his counsel and his family, is still hopeful of a favorable outcome. The best that his counsel expect is a disagreement of the jury. They have feared from the time the jurors retired that there might be a compromise among them on some lesser degree of guilt than murder in the first degree.

NO NEW HOPE.

The action of the jury today in calling for the testimony did not inspire the attorneys to any new hope.

Following the testimony of Mr. Smith, that of Officer John Barry, the doorman of the Nineteenth precinct station, where Thaw was taken upon the night of the killing, was read. He then turned to his counsel, all of whom were present, and entered into a brisk conversation with them. Justice Fitzgerald in taking the bench said:

"I have received a request from the jury to be allowed to examine and have possession of the following exhibits:

"1.—THE PLAN OR DIAGRAM OF MADISON GARDEN.
"2.—EXHIBITS A TO I—THE LET-

BATTLE TO SEE WIFE AT DOOR

Great Crowds to Get a Look at Evelyn
Thaw.

NEW YORK, April 11.—While he was in the court room Thaw handed a slip of paper to the reporters' table. Yesterday one of the local papers published a letter alleged to have been written by Stanford White to May Mackenzie. Thaw's note, which which was on the subject, read:

"I wish they had sixty-four rare original letters of the deceased." Soon after the jury retired Evelyn Thaw, accompanied by Mr. O'Reilly, of Thaw's counsel, left the courtroom for lunch. They were forced to fight their way through the crowd. The other members of the Thaw family had police protection from the curious ones as they left the building. When Evelyn Thaw returned to the court room the street was jammed with people and the police had to be called upon to make a passage way for her. Hundreds of people, many of them women, fought to get close to her. Scores rushed into the court house in an effort to see her.

SUDDEN DEATH IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Thomas Concanon, aged 60 years and a native of Ireland, died suddenly at 12:15 o'clock this morning. Concanon lived at 1067 Pacific avenue. He was a laborer, worked yesterday, and apparently was in good health. He was taken ill last night after returning home, dying at midnight. Coroner Tiedale will hold an inquest.

HOTEL ARCHITECT HERE THIS EVENING

Comes to Complete Plans for Oakland's Great $2,000,000
Hotel.

Mr. Henry J. Hardenbergh, who has been selected by the board of directors of the Oakland Hotel Company as the architect for Oakland's new hotel, will be in the city this evening. He is expected to arrive this evening from New York. Mr. Hardenbergh is admittedly the greatest hotel architect in America. Among the hotels designed by him and which have made him famous, might be mentioned the Waldorf-Astoria and Manhattan of New York and the new Willard of Washington. Mr. Hardenbergh brings with him his chief assistant and they will be guests of the Claremont Country Club during their stay. The preliminary sketches are already prepared and will be submitted to the board of directors as soon as Mr. Walter J. Mathews, the consulting architect of the board, has had time to discuss them with Mr. Hardenbergh. During their recent visit to New York, Mr. William G. Henshaw and Mr. Edson F. Adams had many very satisfactory interviews with Mr. Hardenbergh. It was mainly through their efforts that so eminent an architect has been secured and that he has consented to come to this coast and give our hotel his personal attention and supervision.

STILL TRYING FOR RUEF JURORS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Upon the resumption of the Ruef trial this morning Judge Dunne re-exposed until tomorrow Jurors Dumbrell, Knights, Hookwald, Johnson, Watson, Otis and Varnhagen, the seven who qualified to serve but are still subject to dismissal on peremptory challenges. The jurors were temporarily excused from attendance because their presence during the examination of other witnesses was deemed unnecessary. Talesman Max Gang, a retired liquor dealer, was challenged by the prosecution for bias after a brief examination in the course of which he said he was personally acquainted with Ruef and Attorney Ach, and did not believe he could try the case with fairness to the people. The challenge was allowed and Gang stood aside. Theodore Cohen, a drygoods dealer, proved a difficult problem. In direct examination by Mr. Johnson he said he had an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of Ruef. Under cross-examination by Mr. Ach he said he had changed that opinion some time since. Redirectly examined, he declared he now had an opinion but it was "neither here nor material." Cohen's recollection of whether he had been approached by persons since he became a talesman and drawn into a discussion of Ruef's guilt or innocence was "blank." Johnson's objection to the following question was "sustained."

YOUNG CARPENTER IS AGAIN A FORGER

Forged Checks in Oakland Bank of Savings for $1000 and Gambled Money.

"I gambled and needed the money," confessed Ambrose Carpenter, a young man of 25, who was arrested at midnight last night and identified by J. B. Hough as being the person who cashed forged checks to the amount of $1000 at the Oakland Bank of Savings. With a clean breast of the whole affair, Carpenter admitted facts of his career in the efforts to obtain money by signing the names of other depositors. He has been out on probation for the past five years for forging checks in San Francisco. Carpenter is the son of Jack Carpenter, who made a big fortune in African mines and later came to Oakland. He built a palatial home overlooking Lake Merritt, but since then has lost his fortune. Ambrose Carpenter and his father are among the very few survivors of the wreck of the steamer Rio de Janeiro, which went down in the Golden Gate six years ago, a coffin for the hundreds of souls that were aboard. Under Arrest. At midnight last night District Attorney Everett J. Brown and Constable Bert Hemphill went to the boarding-house where Carpenter was rooming, at the northwest corner of East Twenty-first street and Thirteenth avenue. Sheriff Frank Barnett came at the time and a search of the premises was made. Carpenter was not located at first, but as soon as he came home he was placed under arrest by the two officers. J. B. Hough of the Oakland Bank of Savings went in an automobile to the house and positively identified Carpenter as the man who passed checks on the bank for $1000 bearing the name of E. J. Sullivan of Ninth street, near Jefferson. Carpenter was taken to the county jail and asked if he would confess. He declined to make any admissions of the alleged crime and asked the officers to wait until his lawyers and his own counsel would think the matter over. He acted upon a considered conviction, and this morning when District Attorney

Everett J. Brown confronted him, he told the story of a run down life, and, being pressed for money, he forged the name of E. J. Sullivan to several checks which in all amounted to $1000.

WAS A GAMBLER.

Carpenter again took a spell to remain quiet and refused to make public his career in the game of forgery. He says he prefers to remain quiet and consult an attorney. He did make admissions to the District Attorney which he says is the truth. Carpenter asserts that he was driven to it because of frequent losses of money at gambling and leading a sporting life.

Sheriff Barnett has been working on the case for the past few weeks, and after getting the strings of evidence against the young man, proceeded with the arrest.

BIG EASTERN CONCERN LOCATES IN OAKLAND

The N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company of St. Louis, wholesale dealers in plumbers' supplies, have taken off the hands of the Pacific Manufacturing Book Company the lease to the premises at the southwest corner of Oak street. "The N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company," said Manager Brown, of the Manufacturing Book Company, "is one of the largest concerns of its kind in the United States. It is rated at $300,000 and has warehouses in all of the larger cities throughout the country. Its location in Oakland is permanent, although the lease which the company has bought from us and which we hold from the California Development Company has only about three years to run.

"The location of a warehouse in Oakland, by this big Eastern concern, is a matter of the greatest significance and importance to this city," continued Mr. Brown, "for it proves that the commercial centers and big manufacturers of the East are getting interested in Oakland."

The location of the warehouse leased by the N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company is peculiarly favorable for their purposes. It is close to the water front, and the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific tracks and rights of way. Indeed, a Southern Pacific spur track runs right alongside the building and the lessees are now discharging stock from the cars into the premises which they expect to wholly occupy in about two weeks. While the N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company is moving in, the Pacific Manufacturing Book Company is moving out, plant and stock being transferred to a new brick and concrete building expressly erected for it at Emeryville, on the north side of the track and the east side of the Berkeley line, between 6th and 7th streets, and Powell and Stanford avenues. The building covers an area of 150x150 and cost $50,000.

INJURIES ARE FOUND SEVERE

Victims of Early Morning Collision Between Car and Coupe Suffering.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The injuries sustained by E. J. Zimmer and Mrs. Wellington Gregg in the collision between a cable car and the carriage in which they were riding yesterday morning, while not necessarily fatal are serious. Both of the victims of the accident are at the Zimmer home, 2569 Gough street. The intense pain, which they suffer, and the long period of unconsciousness which followed the accident made an accurate diagnosis impossible until late yesterday.

Dr. C. D. Potter found that Zimmer was suffering from a broken rib, a fracture of the collar-bone and shoulder-blade, and possibly from internal injuries. His body is covered with bruises and cuts.

Mrs. Gregg's injuries are not as serious as those of Zimmer, although painful. She is in a serious condition from shock, and it will probably be many weeks before her recovery.

The diamond brooch valued at $300 which was torn from the gown Mrs. Gregg wore at the time of the accident, was found yesterday afternoon by William P. Brown, who turned it over to the police at the Bush street station. The jewel was given to Wellington Gregg, who is cashier of the Crocker National Bank. Brown, who is employed in a saloon, said that he had found it near the scene of the accident.

MOST ANCIENT OF ALL THE TREES

This Bo-tree (the Ficus religiosa) is probably the oldest living thing in the world of which record has been kept by man, and with the possible exception of the sequoia, the oldest of living trees. It was brought from India by the Princess Sanghamitta, and was planted by King Devanampiya Tissa in 288 B. C. It is therefore 1,700 years old. The preservation of this tree has been an object of reverent solicitude to successive dynasties, and either through superstition or reverence or because of its worthlessness to a plunderer, it has been spared until all the havoc of recent invasions. It is now in the hands of the British, and is situated on a hill near the city of Benares, India.

The Bo-tree's age and identity are matters of absolutely faithful record, and when one recalls that in the rigorous desolation of Northern Germany, the Tiliacanth, there grows a rosebush which is 1,000 years old, it does not seem so remarkable that in the sunny clime of India this tree should have lived twice as long. It is gnarled and unsymmetrical, because many of its branches have been cut off and sent to distant temples. This Bo-tree is a branch of the tree under which Guatama Buddha sat when he attained Nirvana, and Buddha, by his passion through which he passed, communicated itself to the tree, and caused all the leaves to tremble.

Each of the millions of pilgrims who have trod along the sacred way which leads to this shrine has hoped to bear away with him a leaf from the sacred tree, and happy is he at whose feet one falls.

The leaves hang on a slender stem, and are easily stirred by the slightest breeze. So each pilgrim is rewarded for his pilgrimage by feeling that the tree responds to the fervor of his devotion, and for take home a leaf. Many bring offerings to the tree, and on a number of the lower leaves are sheets of gold or silver, which are placed there by wealthy worshippers. — From Rosalie Slaughter Morton's "The City of the Sacred Bo-tree" in the April Century.

NEW BAYONET FOR THE THIN RED LINE

Several new patterns of bayonets have been sent to Aldershot for experimental purposes, with the object of selecting one that will be the best adapted for use with the new short rifle. It has been recognized that our troops are greatly handicapped in this direction, owing to the very small sword bayonet they have at present in use, and the new patterns are in consequence all very much longer. Efforts have been made to keep the weight of these new weapons down to the lowest, while increasing their length to compensate for the reduction of three inches in the length of the new short rifle. Among the patterns under trial are those in use in the United States and Japanese armies and a three-cornered bayonet very similar to the old-fashioned bayonet, but very much lighter and straighter. — London Daily Telegraph.

SOUTHERN OFFICIALS DUE FOR GRAND JURY RACKING

Prosecution Have Narrowed the Facts Down to the Danger Point for Bribers.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Although a good deal of yesterday's session of the grand jury was taken up with the consideration of the ballot stuffers the body devoted much of its time to the consideration of the Home Telephone Company. The victim of the acquisition was Judge North of Riverside who is a sort of a forerunner for many of the southern officials of that company who are to appear today.

Judge North's examination was merely preliminary and he will be recalled, North was an active attorney for the Home Telephone Company at the time of the bribery of the San Francisco Supervisors, and was familiar with every move of the company that involved legal matters. He emulated the wit of his Los Angeles employers, and in the fifteen minutes he was on the stand furnished little of an effort to the prosecution.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the trial of the Los Angeles and San Francisco ramifications of the Home Telephone Company will be examined for the second time. The prosecution has narrowed the evidence down to a small circle, and the indictments that are in prospect embrace the names of the frozen financiers who made their money out of manipulations of the Home Telephone Company.

VESSEL GOES ASHORE IN FOG

Steamer Brussels Stranded With Sixty Passengers on Board.

LONDON, April 11.—The Great Eastern Railway Company's steamer Brussels went ashore in a dense fog off Harwich at 11 o'clock last night, while outward bound for Antwerp. She remained fast all night, with about sixty passengers on board, but was not considered to be in any danger as she was resting on a soft bottom. It is expected the vessel will be hauled off at high water today. This is the third of the company's steamers to be in trouble recently, including the Berlin, which was wrecked February 21st off

RELIGION ENTERS INTO THE ABE RUEF CASE

The Jurors Are Closely Questioned About Reading Articles in the Daily Newspapers.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—If Ruef suffers under the watchfulness of Elisor Biggy, there was nothing to indicate the fact in his appearance as he entered Judge Dunne's court this morning, in the trial in which he is the defendant on the charge of extortion. Speaking on the ruling of the Supreme court, yesterday, as relating to the freedom of access which callers should have to see Ruef in the big white house on Fillmore street, Elisor Biggy said:

ELISOR'S CASE.

"There will be no change in the matter of keeping Ruef under surveillance, save that he will be allowed a little more liberty in meeting people, that has been allowed before. The court, you will remember, refused to order that the door of his room should be closed."

AUTHORITIES.

Ruef was asked if his counsel had, as yet presented to the Supreme court, the authorities asked by that tribunal as to why he thought he should be removed to the custody of the sheriff and replied as follows:

"My counsel has furnished the court the same authorities which were presented to it at the first hearing of the application for a writ of habeas corpus. They have added other authorities, which also have a bearing on the case."

Talesman Dumbrell, Knicht, Hochwald, Johnson, Watson, Otto and Varin, who have been passed subject to preliminary challenge, were dismissed, shortly after the sitting of the court, until tomorrow, pending the examination of the new witnesses.

KNEW RUEF VERY WELL.

Max Gans of 227 Franklin street, a capitalist, was challenged by the prosecution. The challenge was not denied by the defense because the talesman admitted that he knew Ruef very well; that he also knew Ruef's attorney, Ach, and that he did not think he could give the case a fair trial so far as the prosecution was concerned.

Theodore Cohen of 2440 Clay street, a dry goods merchant, stated he had no fixed opinion on the subject.

"Did you," asked Johnson, "in your place of business, say that the Ruef trial would not go through?"

"I don't remember," was the answer. "Did you, at the same place, say that there was nothing in the Ruef case but politics?"

"I can't say that I did." "Did you, at the same place, say that there was nothing in the Ruef case but politics?"

"I can't remember." "Was not that your opinion?" "It may have been."

"Did you not say, in your store, that you were practicing as a lawyer what to say to these lawyers?"

"Oh, no." "Do you know that you could not give the prosecution a fair show at this trial?"

"I think, when I may have had an opinion, I could give a fair trial." "When did your opinion change?"

"I can't tell. I have no fixed opinion now." "What was the reason of the change, if you know?"

"I don't know." "Did you express friendliness for Mr. Ruef?"

"I did not." "Have you, on any occasion, expressed an opinion to Mr. Ruef?"

"No, I did not." "You have an opinion?" "No, fixed opinion. It has changed some."

"When did it change?" "Sometimes it's one way and sometimes it's another."

"And what is it today, strong or weak?" "It isn't weak and it isn't strong."

"Is your opinion such as would require evidence by the prosecution to remove?" "Yes."

"It would require strong evidence?" "Yes, it would require strong evidence."

"Has it been a subject of discussion in your store?" "It has not."

"Unless the prosecution produced a great deal stronger evidence than is required in the ordinary criminal case, you would find against the prosecution, wouldn't you?"

"No, indeed, I would not." "Did anybody say in your presence that Ruef ought to be acquitted?"

"I don't know that any person has made that remark in my presence. All these questions were objected to, but the objections were overruled by the court."

Cohen was then taken in hand by Ach for the defendant. Cohen stated that he did not recall a tall man with a black mustache who had attempted to engage him in conversation in his store about the Ruef case. Neither could he recall that a woman, in the same place, had attempted to induce him to express an opinion on the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Cohen stated that he was a married man. His brother, who was with him in business, was also married. Both brothers had married sisters who were members of the Jones family, merchants in Oakland. He took meals with his family in the Delmonico restaurant. He was never inside in the Foodie Dog or Pup restaurants.

The witness was then taken through the French restaurant district. He knew where all of those institutions were located and had dined in many of them. He was acquainted with the proprietors of some of them. Nobody had ever sought to prejudice him against Ruef in the case, growing out of the alleged extortion against the French restaurant in question. If extraneous questions should be introduced in the case in court, he would pay attention to any of them but confine his attention to the facts adduced in the present case of extortion. He would hold out against odds in the jury-room in the event of his having a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the accused.

"Did you read an article a few days ago, in the Chronicle, urging this court to send counsel for the defendant to jail, because you knew he was undergoing examination?"

Johnson objected to the question but the court allowed it to be answered.

"I did not," was the answer.

"Does the newspapers' desire for the conviction of Ruef in any way affect you?"

"No, sir."

"Do you know Rev. William Rader?"

"No."

"Did you ever speak to him about the case?"

"No."

"Are you conscious of anything that would prevent you from giving this case a fair trial?"

"At the present time I feel that I could give both sides a fair trial."

"Was your store ever boycotted by any union?"

"Some time ago we had a misunderstanding with a union, but we obeyed the order of the union."

"Because you were compelled to live up to the rules of the union, would that cause you to have prejudice against Ruef, because you knew he has been connected with labor politics?"

"UNION RULES GOOD."

"No, because we found that in living up to the rules of the union it was a good thing. We used to keep our store open all day and in the afternoon. The union ruled that the store should close at 6 o'clock in the evening. We first opposed it, because we thought it would injure our business. But we did not find it that way. We found that closing the store at 6 o'clock was a good thing."

AGAINST DEFENDANT.

On redirect examination Johnson asked:

"In your direct examination you told me that you had an opinion, even though it was not fixed. Now, will you tell me if that opinion was adverse to the defendant?"

"This was objected to by Ach, but the court allowed the question to be answered."

"The opinion that I had," said Cohen, "was against the defendant."

"This answer was evidently a surprise to Johnson, who felt that the talesman was not such as he wanted to try the case. It was also a surprise to the defense, because Cohen had answered every question to the satisfaction of Ach. The defense thereupon filed the talesman with questions for the purpose of showing that despite his adverse opinion to Ruef, he could give the defendant a fair trial, and Cohen replied that he could."

SASH AND DOOR FACTORY LOCATED IN EAST OAKLAND

Big Concern Arranging to Establish Plant—Will Have Large Warehouse and Stock.

A new industry, to be started in East Oakland, is the Oakland Sash and Door Company. Realizing the demand for dry finish lumber, they are building a large warehouse on the De Fremery property at Session's basin, near where they intend to carry a large and complete stock of kiln dried, redwood finish, mouldings of all kinds, doors and windows and frames and all kinds of mill work.

One of the greatest drawbacks to the building business has been the shortage of dry finish lumber and the Oakland Sash and Door Company has made arrangements to carry a very large stock of this material, keeping a full stock on hand at all times. The warehouse will have a capacity of 2000 doors and 1500 windows, besides the mouldings and finish lumber.

They intend to cater not only to the local trade, but to the trade of the bay and valley towns as well. Being on deep water and having spur tracks from the Southern and Western Pacific railroads, their facilities for handling material will be unsurpassed.

The building, when completed, will cost about $300 and the stock carried will amount to about $50,000. R. J. Browne, formerly manager of the Bay Shore Lumber Company, will be the local manager of the new concern.

WORKS WONDERS
A Wonderful Compound—Cures Piles, Eczema, Skin Itching, Skin Eruptions, Cuts and Bruises.

Doan's Ointment is the best skin treatment, and the cheapest, because so little is required to cure. It cures piles after years of torture. It cures obstinate cases of eczema. It cures all skin itching. It cures skin eruptions. It heals cuts, scratches, and abrasions without leaving a scar. It cures permanently. Oakland testimony proves it.

George Hoffman, groceries and general merchandise, corner of Fifth avenue and East Seventeenth street, says: "A case of hemorrhoids, commonly called piles, came under my observation some time ago. I knew from reading the Muscatine (Iowa) papers, that city being my old home, that Doan's Ointment had been used in the vicinity amongst some of the best citizens and that the results obtained were so undoubted that I advised its use in the case referred to above. Doan's Ointment was procured. It did its work thoroughly and well. Since then Doan's Ointment has been brought permanently before the residents of Oakland and I might add to the claims made for it, that it can be depended upon to act just as represented."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A Foolish Enforcement of Tax Laws.

A queer situation has arisen in Texas. After the Legislature has made its biennial appropriations and the rate of the tax levy fixed, the State revenue agent, who is invested with plenary powers by Texas law, declares that the assessed valuations must conform strictly to the letter of the law, which provides that property shall be assessed at its actual cash value. He asserts that the assessed valuation of the State is less than 38 per cent of the actual cash value, and insists that assessments must be raised on an average of 100 per cent.

It is pointed out that the appropriations and the tax rate have been made on the basis of the old assessment, and that to double the assessed valuation means the collection of something like $8,000,000 a year excess revenue which must lie idle in the treasury till the Legislature meets two years hence. The revenue agent replies by quoting the law he is sworn to enforce. He says he is not to blame if the law has been disobeyed in the past, and that the Legislature has proceeded on the theory of its continued violation. In language admitting of no mistake he tells the county assessors that they must obey the law or suffer the consequences. He declares that it is no affair of his if obedience to the revenue laws entails a heavy and unnecessary hardship by compelling people to pay twice as much in taxes as the State requires or was contemplated in making the appropriations and fixing the tax rate; he did not make the law nor fix the tax rate.

Here is an instance of carrying official fidelity to a quixotic and foolish extreme. Indeed, it is carrying it to the extreme of wrong and outrage. Taxation is a form of confiscation that is only justifiable when it is levied equitably and does not exceed the legitimate needs of government properly administered. In all States the letter of the law requires property to be assessed at its actual cash value. In no State is this done. The rate of taxation is general, and so long as the assessments are fairly equalized as between counties and individuals the spirit of the law is observed. To insist upon obedience to the letter of the law when its corollaries are out of joint and the reasons therefor are lacking is the acme of official stupidity. It is sacrificing the purpose of the law to an absurd scruple.

If the Texas example were followed in California an immense injury would result. According to the report of the Federal census bureau the actual wealth of California is three times the assessed valuation. As in Texas, our law requires property to be assessed at its actual cash value. Now that the appropriations have been made and the rate of the tax levy fixed, it would be monstrous to insist upon assessments being made in strict conformity with the law. To do so would withdraw from circulation a vast amount of money required for the transaction of business and create a useless hoard in the State treasury. An enormous amount of money would be piled up for a succeeding Legislature to spend extravagantly, for the presence of a surplus is always an incentive to extravagance and invariably inspires a popular demand for its expenditure that it may return to the channels of circulation.

It is reported from The Hague that Russia objects to naval disarmament. As the Japanese have attended to naval disarmament in her case it is difficult to see why Russia should object to other powers disarming.

Delmas' argument for the defense in the Thaw case was a masterly effort worthy of his fame as an orator and an advocate, but his acquaintances in California are surprised at the statement that his voice failed him at the close. Such a thing was never known before. Delmas' voice is not only a powerful and musical organ, but it has been carefully trained and is used with exquisite skill. A slight cold or a difference in climate must have caused it to succumb in New York.

The Ball Opens in Ohio.

Senator Foraker did not mince words in opening his campaign for the Presidency, at Canton, O. He picked up the gauntlet thrown down by the President in behalf of Taft, and hurled back a defiance that will echo throughout the campaign. His criticism of the President was sharp and severe, although couched in strictly parliamentary terms. The President's infringement on the constitutional rights of Congress, his invasion of the powers vested by the Constitution in the States and his attempt to name his successor in the White House all came in for caustic arraignment. The inspired notice that a dead line was to be drawn in political debate was attacked and defied. Foraker also took occasion to defend his course in regard to rate legislation and the Brownsville affair, and denied with emphasis that he was associated in combination with E. H. Harriman and John D. Rockefeller to do up Roosevelt. He scouted the story of a $3,000,000 fund raised to defeat the plans of the President and the aspirations of his friends.

As a companion piece to Foraker's Canton address, Congressman Longworth, the President's son-in-law, gave out an interview in Cincinnati urging the nomination of Taft for the Presidency. This is important because it is an authoritative repudiation of the idea that the President has designs on a third-term nomination and more definitely commits the administration to the candidacy of Taft. Fresh from the White House, Mr. Longworth says Taft should be nominated because "no other man so thoroughly typifies in the eyes of the American people the spirit of the Roosevelt administration."

That Longworth's interview was timed to go out as an answering note to Foraker's speech can hardly be questioned. The President has a prescience for dramatic situations and psychological moments. If not always a clean hitter he is a hard one, and his whole history shows that he is always on the lookout for an opening to land on an adversary. He used son-in-law Longworth and the Cincinnati newspapers to counter on Foraker at Canton. The music has fairly begun. Let the band play.

Mr. Delmas has merely coined a new name for it, but dementia Americana is an old complaint that still persists notwithstanding the rough surgery of the hangman. In Kentucky it is known as a mountain fued, but in more civilized regions it is known as plain murder. It is only accompanied by brainstorms when the person afflicted is enormously rich and employs an eloquent and poetical counsel.

Detwiler seems to be as hard to find as the man that struck Billy Patterson. Perhaps if some of the keen-scented grafters were put on his track they would be more successful than the detectives in running him down.

OAKLAND "GET BUSY THERE."

Practice That Should Be Stopped.

City and County Attorney Burke of San Francisco has given the City Treasurer an official opinion to the effect that Recorder John H. Nelson is entitled to draw his salary for January and February, during which months he was sitting as a member of the State Senate drawing pay as such. The municipal charter provides that an office held by any one under the city and county of San Francisco shall become vacant if the incumbent holds any other salaried office under the State or becomes a member of the Legislature. But the Supreme Court has decided that certain officers in the dual government of San Francisco are county officers and others city officers. On the authority of the Supreme Court Mr. Burke holds the Recorder to be a county officer and therefore immune from the provision of the charter forbidding municipal officers from holding two positions.

A legislative enactment is required to prevent members of the Legislature holding salaried State or county offices. It is one that should be passed at the next session. The practice of persons holding deputyships under county officers or salaried positions under the Harbor Commission sitting in the Legislature and making laws is becoming altogether too common. At one time a majority of the delegation from San Francisco held jobs under the State or city and county government, and legislated on matters in which they were directly concerned. Such things should never be permitted. They are pernicious in principle and vicious in practice.

While the abuse is chiefly confined to San Francisco and the harbor front, it is one that affects the whole State. It exerts an improper influence on legislation in regard to the salaries and duties of county officers, and therefore touches the pockets of the taxpayers. County deputies and employees in the State printing office or the State Harbor Commission have no business in the Legislature, and a law to that effect should be passed.

A complaint comes from England that divorce is too expensive and difficult in the United Kingdom. In this country the complaint is that divorce is too easy and too cheap. It is something that should be made neither easy nor cheap. While divorce is a necessity in some cases, it is a remedy for domestic misery or infelicity that should be applied only as a last resort.

Really it does not seem so clear that the President has decided to nominate Taft as his successor. At various times recently he has been credited with a partiality for Governor Hughes and Speaker Cannon of Illinois. Perhaps he is with Hughes in New York, Taft in Ohio and Cannon in Illinois on the same principle that Jay Gould said he was a Republican in Republican districts and a Democrat in Democratic districts.

In the Harriman controversy the President seems to have added Senator Knox, his former Attorney-General, to the list of his enemies. When Knox left the Cabinet to don the toga Quay dropped at his death, it was supposed that he would come into the Senate as an ardent supporter of the administration. Politics is a shifting game, however, and Knox is apparently lined up with Penrose, Scott, Aldrich, Foraker and other Republican leaders in the Senate in opposition to the President's radical anti-railroad policy.

TEMPORARY.

A certain man, who was recently re-elected to a position that he had held for many years, met a man on the street who congratulated him on his continued good fortune, and the man replied:

"Yes, but it can't always last; I'll have to give it up some day. I feel a great deal like a man I knew who worked in one place for forty years, and when discharged at last on account of old age, remarked: 'Well, when I came here I knew I wouldn't have a steady job.'—Harper's for March.

THE MODERN SHYLOCK.

"Please wrap up all my purchases," said the grouchy customer. "Why, I've done so," replied the cash grocer. "Beg pardon, but you haven't," retorted the g. c. "What have I left undone up?" "That thumb of yours that you weighed up with the butter!" snorted the g. c. "I want it for dog meat. Wrap it up!"—Judge.

Pointed Paragraphs

Upton Sinclair and a publisher's reader met the other day in New York. The talk turned at once to literature and the reader mentioned proudly that a certain popular novel, after thirteen rejections, had been accepted by him and had gained for his house nearly $100,000. "A mighty good book it is, too," said the reader. "Have you read it?" "Yes," said Mr. Sinclair. "Well, what do you think of it?" "There is only one thing to be said in its favor," the young novelist answered. "A friend of mine during the Spanish-American war carried it in his breast pocket, and a ball ricocheted against his ribs, but the book saved him. The ball was unable to get beyond the fourth chapter."

General Sir Ian Hamilton of the British army wrote the evening after one of the great battles which he had witnessed between Russians and Japanese in the recent war in Manchuria: "To bed! Although it is with reluctance that I prepare to lose my grip of the exciting consciousness that I have today seen the most stupendous spectacle that it is possible for mortal brain to conceive—Asia advancing, Europe falling back; the wall of mist and the writing thereon." Then as to the meaning of this retreat of Europe before advancing Asia: "The more I think, the more certain I am that it was not strategy or tactics, or armament or information, which won the battle of Liaoyang for Oyama, but that it was rather the souls of the Japanese troops over the less developed, less awakened, less stimulated qualities of the Russians."

ALREADY PROVED.

A young man who had inherited a large fortune from a rich but very economical relative decided to live on a scale commensurate with his greatly increased income, and was making arrangements to build a fine mansion, buy an automobile, and invest in other expensive luxuries, when an elderly friend who had always been one of his advisers undertook to remonstrate with him.

"What's this I hear about your squandering the money your uncle left you, Harry?" said the elderly friend. "I am not going to squander it," he answered, "but I'm going to get some good out of it."

"It's enough to make him turn over in his grave. Didn't your uncle prove in his own case that a man could live on a personal expenditure of less than $1000 a year?"

"Yes."

"Well."

"Well, he proved it so thoroughly that I accept it as demonstrated. What is the use of my continuing the experiment?"—Youth's Companion.

HADENFELDT-MELONE.

Miss Wanda Hadenfeldt and Henry Clinton Melone were married at noon yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church on Washington street, San Francisco, in the presence of a large number of society folk, who had gathered to witness the ceremony. The chapel was artistically decorated and made a pretty setting for the marriage.

The church was a bower of green, save at the altar, where pink and white fruit blossoms added a delicate touch of color.

Miss Hadenfeldt made a beautiful bride and was given away by her brother. She wore a robe of point lace applique, and a tulle veil fell from a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair to the hem of her train. Beneath the tulle, and also fastened to the wreath was a wonderful Armenian wedding veil of silver, a gift from an American girl friend of the bride.

Miss Ethel Melone acted as maid of honor, and was very striking in pink point d'esprit, with a picture hat covered with pink plumes and roses. She carried bridesmaid roses.

Arthur Goodfellow was best man. The ushers were Benjamin Deane, James Deane, Philip Paschel and Carl Hadenfeldt. A little nephew, of the bride was ring bearer. The wedding breakfast was served at the Palace Hotel.

THE TRIBUNE TROPHY TOURNEY

A WHOLE PAGE OF SPECIMENS ON SUNDAY

"I must ask you, Phidias—although you are a sculptor, and not a painter like Apelles, that other Greek notable—to tell us something about photography. Your best-aim contest has everything to do with that art, and I have reached such a pitch of interest in likeness work, because of this tourney, that I am hungry to absorb facts about the camera." So writes a Fruitvale matron, and in reply this much will be said here as to photography:

In the early 30's of the last century, Louis Jacques Daguerre was a decorator and scene painter in France. He got the idea that pictures could be made without brush, pencil, or burin. In 1839 his wife took steps to have him committed to Bicetre for insanity. His talk was mainly of liquids that would fasten sun shadows on glass or copper sheets. All of a sudden he succeeded in preserving a shadow on a copper plate, and the art of photography was born. But for years it took a brilliant sun and long exposure to produce a landscape view, and a person had to face the camera for twenty minutes before released from an unyielding posture.

In 1839 Fox Talbot of England learned how to print a likeness on paper and in 1850 Scott Archer of that realm discovered that by using a film of collodion the shapes could be fixed on glass and pictures on paper printed from that "negative." Nowadays the sensitive plate back of the Cyclops eye of a camera will record an impression in a wink, and there are lenses fast enough to depict an automobile's swiftest gait. Photography reveals effects in light and shadow (Chiaro-osc-

One lady informs Phidias that she is of the mind that slender subjects appear to best advantage in photos, and a Hayward correspondent is struck by an identical train of thought—only she opines that a woman must have weight in order to make a "real good" picture. As the French say ("Chacun a son gout"): Each to her taste!

If you, reader, feel like having your likeness taken for the competition to determine loveliest arm and finest pose, send a request by mail to "Phidias, editorial department, OAKLAND TRIBUNE," and you will quickly get a free Shaw & Shaw order. PRETTY GIRL MUST FACE BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Bread and Water Diet Kills Her Love

PITTSBURG, April 11.—Because her love quickly wore away under solitary confinement, Miss Bessie Amos, a strikingly handsome young woman, 25 years old, must face a breach of promise suit brought by Albert Hatfield, of Amwell township. It will be the first action of the kind ever brought by a man in this county.

Hatfield, who is six years the senior of Miss Amos, is a prosperous farmer, and formerly lived near the Amos family. He has been in love with the young woman for years, and when he purchased a large farm a few months ago he proposed to her. He claims that he was accepted.

Her parents objected, and it is alleged locked her up in an attic for several weeks. Finally her love died out on the bread and water diet, and she agreed to throw him over.

He has demanded her hand several times since, but she refuses to see him, and he instructed his attorneys to bring suit. Miss Amos and her father will fight it.

HON. TOPPY TROUPE'S DISTINCTION

Thirty years of service as a delegate to the state and national conventions of one political party, without a break, is a most unusual record, and one that denotes a remarkable degree of both political loyalty and activity. If we add to it service as an officer in each of these conventions, either of a delegation or of a convention at large, we have a still more unusual record, and one perhaps without precedent. Yet this is the distinction earned in long service in behalf of the Republican party by the Hon. Topsy Troupe of Springfield, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Hersehan, formerly Miss Gertrude Jones, are enjoying a two months' honeymoon in the East.

Miss Elizabeth Murison, who has been abroad since last fall is now in Dresden, but will go to Paris soon for a month.

W. H. George spent a few days at Sacramento.

Henry Roehr recently registered at the Imperial in San Jose.

E. D. Brown registered at Hughes Hotel, Fresno.

Mrs. Dacey Maloon recently visited relatives at Santa Rosa.

Miss Ida Fine visited friends at Santa Rosa.

TO CURE WAYWARD GIRLS BY HYPNOTIC SUGGESTION

Novel Method of Woman Philanthropist

NEW YORK, April 11.—A wealthy New York woman, herself a mother, who is devoted to the interests of young girls, has, through the agency of Dr. John D. Quackenbos, set on foot a novel philanthropy. She gave money to defray the traveling expenses of half a dozen girl inmates of a New Jersey reform institution in order that the experiment of regeneration through hypnotic suggestion might be tried upon them. And so far has her personal concern for the success of the treatment carried her that she was herself present with several women friends when the doctor first quieted a patient's mind, then lulled her to sleep, after which he laid his hypnotic commands upon her.

The treatment at Dr. Quackenbos' home, 331 West Twenty-eighth street, was given recently, in each case sleep being prolonged for half an hour. The girls, who were brought from the New Jersey Home for Girls at Trenton, where incorrigibles under age, or those committed for petty offenses are confined, were all 17 or 18 years old.

Last June, when the superintendent, Mrs. Mansell, found herself in deep waters in the management of some of her charges, she came to Dr. Quackenbos for advice. He gave her some instruction in suggestion, and asked that he be permitted to put one or two of the inmates to the test. Two were taken to him by Mrs. Mansell. Both proved refractory to the last degree, and their improvement has been so marked that the superintendent is eager to carry on the experiments. In the case of a girl named Mary, whose rage had been the terror of the household, there was a period of two months of absolute peace. She apologized to Mrs. Mansell for her former behavior. There were no funds at the disposition of the institution to bring the girls back, so the treatment was not repeated. After eight weeks Mary began to show signs of her old attacks.

The doctor's method apparently was of the simplest. "I found out what the trouble was," he said, "and by suggestion endeavored to obliterate it from the girl's memory. Only one fought against sleep and she was hysterical for a few minutes. She was unlike the rest—not a girl of the streets, but one who had been committed for theft. It was when the realization of her position came to her that she had hysteria."

In every case the doctor gave the initiative a twist in a new direction. He supplied an object in life for the one he took away. In two cases, music proved the special adaptability. One girl had talent as a dressmaker, another desired to become a waitress, and each awoke with the new idea controlling one in her mind.

To accomplish anything definite Dr. Quackenbos says he must repeat his suggestions at regular intervals for a considerable period till the idea becomes fixed and the will strong enough to act of itself. He has the fullest belief in hypnotism as a reform agency and expects, through the aid of the rich patron, whose identity is carefully guarded, to have opportunity to continue his efforts on the half-dozen he has started on the good road.

CONTINUAL NAGGING IS POOR HOME DISCIPLINE

Hailstorm of Fault-Finding Is Ruinous

The greatest defect in home discipline is continual nagging.

Children who are exposed to a constant hailstorm of fault-finding grow hardened to it by repetition, says the St. Louis Republic, and it makes no healthful impression on their minds. Resentment is aroused by reproach given in public. A sensitive child hates ridicule and loathes comment that is unsparingly bestowed before the family or the family friends. A most brilliant and beautiful young woman says that her childhood was unspeakably wretched because her mother and her elder sisters never omitted an opportunity to criticize her when she made a mistake or transgressed a rule of etiquette.

She was a very large girl, who had long limbs and an awkward carriage at 12, and her mother would say: "I am so mortified at Elizabeth's clumsiness. We keep her out of sight as much as we can, but she is so big that it is hard work." It was always "Sit up straight, Elizabeth," or "Go back and see if you cannot enter the room more quietly," until poor Elizabeth wished that the ground would open and swallow her up.

If you find that the habit of criticism is creeping over you, that you are ready to blame than to praise, reprove than to award, call a halt. Remind yourself that fruit and flowers ripen in the sunshine, and that affection has before now been winter-killed. Not the things in a home, but the people in it makes the home a place of charm and repose.

Mothers need to discriminate. Harshness and severity should never be meted out to a child who is the victim of an accident. The perfect poise and unbroken calm of a sweet woman whose little girl had the misfortune to knock over a very costly vase which had for her mother precious associations connected with her wedding journey in the Far East, were greatly admired. The vase stood on a table where it had been placed after having been shown to the guests, who had gazed at it almost with envy.

In came little Barbara, her doll in her arms. Her foot caught on a rug, slipped along the polished floor; she threw out a hand to save herself from falling and lo! the vase lay in fragments at our feet. "Never mind, Barbara," said the mother, gently, "you did not mean to do it. I am so glad you are not hurt, and even Dolly hasn't a scratch."

The object lesson in self-control was worth going far to see, and its effect would never be lost on the character formation of the little daughter.

A father's part in the upbringing of children is not the less influential and not less direct than that of the mother.

A father whom his children honor, whose integrity and rectitude are bending, whose goodness is their shield, and who stands to them almost in the place of Divine Providence, is for children their best ideal of the Heavenly Father.

During the very earliest years children are most closely under the molding hand of mothers, but from an age that reaches back into the dim adumbration of infancy they receive some impressions from their father.

The man's province is to provide for his home, to be its breadwinner and its defender; and, therefore, working hard and long, he often has little opportunity to be much with his children. Sunday is the father's day. The children make acquaintance with him then.

A home in which both father and mother unite in training their children is the one retreat on earth which gathers to itself the light of heaven.

A GARDEN PLOT

Her heart's a garden-plot, I wist,
Where Love, as floriculturist,
Could tuck sweet pansies in a bed
For thoughts, while roses, white and red,
Might twine sweet friendship's arch above
And speak the magic of love
By falling in petal-fakes, a storm,
Whose drifts should keep affection warm—
Could spots more promising exist
For Love, as floriculturist?

The aromatic herbs of hope,
Moss violets and heliotrope,
Sweet Williams, mignonette and phlox,
Might with endearment's hedge of box
Be safe enclosed, and lift a rare
Array of noddling blossoms there—
If Love will do as I insist,
And come as floriculturist,
I trust he'll find a fertile spot
In which to plant forget-me-nots!

BERKELEY, April 11.—It is the unanimous opinion of the Peralta club that a rail road track should be constructed on the new municipal pier. At a meeting held at the residence of L. N. McQuesten, 1851 Hopkins street, last night, the members listened for over an hour to Attorney Stacy Gibbs, who explained in detail the wharf proposition as it now lies before the Transportation Commission.

Mr. Gibbs contended that this tract should be built at the expense of the city and that the city should have entire control so that the Santa Fe, the BODY OF AGED MAN FOUND.

The body of a man aged about forty years was found beside the railroad track at Tormey Sunday morning. He was dressed in the garb of a working man and had in his possession considerable money. It is believed he fell from some of the trains. His head had been split open presumably from contact with one of the rails. The body is now at the morgue awaiting identification.

UNKNOWN MAN DEAD.
An unknown man was killed by a Southern Pacific passenger train at Horseshoe bend, near Vallejo Junction, Monday evening. The man was walking along the track when an up train whistled a danger signal. Turning to look at the train he stepped from the track in front of another train and was struck by the engine and his head badly crushed. The body is now at the morgue in this city. He is a man aged about thirty-three and was evidently a laborer.

The funerals of two men who were killed in the Southern Pacific wreck at Colton a short time ago took place in Martinez Sunday. Friends of the deceased had the bodies brought to this place for burial.

CORONER'S INQUEST.
Coroner Abbott held the inquest Tuesday to make inquiries into the death of James Griffin, aged ten years, who was shot and killed last Thursday evening by his seven-year-old brother. The evidence shown at the inquest was that the father had been out shooting during the day and when he returned in the evening had left the shotgun standing in the hall; the two little fellows found the gun and not realizing the danger the seven-year-old child pointed the gun at his brother and pulled the trigger, the shot entering the right side of his face and tearing it almost completely away. The jury rendered a verdict that the shooting was accidental.

NATIVE SONS.
Mount Diablo Parlor No. 101, N. S. G. W., will initiate a large class on April 15. The parlor is very strong at present and the members are very enthusiastic. It is said that the initiation will be the red letter day of the parlor. A banquet will follow and a program of music, both instrumental and vocal will be rendered.

The courthouse is receiving the finishing touches at the hands of the painters this week. The big earthquake damaged the courthouse and three months ago Contractor Ingraham began the work of repairs. He was delayed considerably by the heavy weather. The dome has been repaired as well as the portico and many of the rooms had to be replastered. They have been beautifully tinted and are very attractive.

MAYBE PEONS WILL BE PAID

Official Pressure to Make Santa Fe Unravel Red Tape.

POINT RICHMOND, April 11.—Desperate, admit among strangers in a fortnight land, helpless in their gross ignorance, nearly a dozen Mexican laborers for the Santa Fe railroad have suffered for days because the red tape of corporation methods could not be unraveled, quickly, that these humble peons should receive the wages of their toil. With weeks of pay due them, these swarthy foreigners, inveigled into the United States by promises that were broken, they say, have been compelled to beg for food. Not until official pressure had been brought to bear did the big corporation take steps to ameliorate their condition.

ARE STRANDED.
The trackbuilders are about to cease their earnings, but if they story to the officials be true, they are stranded hundreds of miles from home, though promised that after a certain term of employment they should be returned to their Mexican villages free of cost to themselves.

Several days ago this band of peons arrived. They had been working along the Santa Fe for nearly a year. They had crossed from Mexico into El Paso, where, according to records in their possession, they were rushed through as guests of the Holmes Supply Company and sent out as section hands. In their dense ignorance they tolled and tolled, at last arriving here. They applied at the Santa Fe offices for their money, but were told there was none for them.

H. L. White, president of the Contra Costa Labor Council, learned of their plight and communicated with Immigration Commissioner North, believing the men were contract laborers. Kennon demanded to know of the Santa Fe and the men had not been paid.

"My first reply over the telephone," said Kennon, "was: 'Oh, put them in the chain gang if they are bothering you.'"

Kennon put into writing a statement of the case taken from depositions of the Mexicans. The latter claimed to have three months' wages coming and said that the rest of their earnings had been withheld by the company and turned over to railroad boarding-house proprietors.

In the Santa Fe offices no one appeared to have any record of the men's employment or the wages due them, but an attempt is now being made to straighten the tangle.

Some improvement is noticed in the condition of the men. Mr. Anderson, the beloved pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Grace Wilschke of Long Beach is also a visitor at the Alpha Phi house where she is the guest of Miss Adelaide Stafford.

The annual dance of the Beta Theta fraternity took place last evening at the attractive fraternity house, 3607 Heward avenue. About seventy-five guests enjoyed the hospitality of the young hosts. The house was decorated in masses of green and flowers and at a late hour supper was served in the dining room, which had been converted into a bower of blossoms. The active members of the chapter received the guests, who included representatives from all the fraternities. Among the guests were Miss Marian Craig, Miss Miriam Edwards, Miss C. Stralton, Miss Elizabeth Blossom, Miss Redd, Miss Florence Goddard, Miss Moore, Miss Johnston, Miss H. M. The members of El Circulo Hispanico are eagerly looking forward to the last meeting of that society for the present term, which will be held next Wednesday evening. An elaborate program has been prepared, consisting of scenes selected from Electra and Maritimo by Guido and Spanish music. This meeting will be the culmination of a most interesting series. Much of the remarkable success enjoyed by the circle this term has been due to the contagious enthusiasm and tireless energy of its efficient president, Dr. C. L. Bransby.

Mrs. J. C. Arnold entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Carrie Edwards, and of her friend, Miss Clarin Cooke, who have arrived from Whittier for a visit at the Arnold home. Miss Edwards and Miss Cooke attended the Capitola conference on their way to Berkeley.

SAN LEANDRO'S FERTILE SOIL

Travelers on the Electric Road Amazed at Wonderful Productiveness of Land.

SAN LEANDRO, April 11.—Strangers visiting this section for the first time are amazed at the fertility of the soil hereabouts. Even old Californians who have spent their lives elsewhere marvel at it, for while fruit trees are planted closer than nature ever dreamed of, there is not an orchard in sight in which from seven to five rows of small fruits, rhubarb, or garden truck are not planted as well, between the trees. A varied assortment of crops is thus raised at the same time on the one piece of land, and the yield per acre for each is tremendous. Ordinary land would be worn out with such treatment, after a few seasons, but here it has been the practice for over a quarter of a century without any seeming detriment.

Mrs. McCarthy, mother of the popular editor of the Reporter, was resting easier yesterday.

The popularity of THE TRIBUNE is becoming more and more pronounced at this end of the county. Henry Abernethy, the rustling agent, reports that though from seventy-five to one hundred copies come into town every evening in the hands of passengers, he is constantly adding new names to the subscription list in San Leandro. Equally good reports come from Hayward.

LAD TO REST BY REBEKAHS

Funeral of Well Known Pleasanton Woman—Other News Items of Interest.

PLEASANTON, April 11.—The funeral of Mrs. Annie M. Elliott was very largely attended on Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. B. Stone, of Livermore, conducted services at the residence, and Pleasanton Rebekah Lodge took charge of the ceremonies at the grave, in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Many beautiful flowers were brought by sympathizing friends.

Two engines came into collision near here Tuesday evening about 5:30 o'clock, and damaged both sufficiently to delay the evening trains several hours. A freight train was pulling toward Livermore and had only reached the brickyard, when an engine, backing toward it, collided with it with considerable force. Both machines were sent to Oakland next day for repairs.

The Livermore Aeris No. 509, Fraternal Order of Eagles, is advertising its third annual ball, to be given at Nevis Pavilion on April 26th. The members are selling many tickets.

Our prizes have been offered by C. L. Powell, F. W. Smith, N. Hansen and Mr. Van Horn for those proving themselves the best at the business, Frank Nevis is chairman of the committee of arrangements, and promises that everything possible will be done to make the affair enjoyable for those who attend.

Serra Pinto No. 8, U. P. C. E., is to hold a grand banquet and initiation in Nevis Pavilion on Sunday, April 21, and expect to add to their membership largely at that time.

Doing Business Again.
"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chouhomb, "I was well, N. Y., and when I looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am well, gaining daily. Be it to all tonic medicine. Quoted by Oregon druggists, 7th and Broadway, and 12th and Washington, Oakland, 50 cents."

EMPLOYERS--DO YOU NEED HELP

The Bureau of Publicity of San Francisco is being flooded with applications for work as a result of the advertising it has done throughout the East in upwards of 12,000 papers. Hundreds of these people are now reaching San Francisco and the rigid union rules make it difficult often to find employment for those who do not belong to unions. Most of these people are glad to live in any California town and those who are in need of help in the various walks of life should place themselves in touch with the Bureau of Publicity, Room 514 Union Trust Building, San Francisco, at once and make their wants known. We make no charge for our services and there are no fees of any kind for supplying

SOCIETY NOTES FROM HAYWARD

Distinguished Guests at the Hotel—Fashionable Bridge Club in Formation.

HAYWARD, April 11.—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hanna are residing at the Hotel Hayward. Mr. Hanna, who is the cousin of the late Mark Hanna, the distinguished Ohioan, is the most approachable of men, and possesses a fund of humor that makes every one his friend.

General E. B. Williston, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Williston have arrived on the coast from Washington, D. C., and are now sojourning at the Hotel Hayward.

The people of Hayward are quite proud of the victory of Miss Della Rogers at the oratorical contest in San Leandro, on Monday last. She is the sixteen-year-old daughter of R. H. Rogers, the well known druggist.

Bridge is becoming fashionable in Hayward. An expert teacher is now engaged in instructing a club of society leaders, among them are: Mrs. Henry Payot, Mrs. F. T. Cooper, Mrs. Dr. Reynolds and Mrs. William Angus.

News has come by cable from Manila, P. I., of the marriage of Edward J. Claviter, formerly of this city, and Miss Edie Polger, of Manila. The bride and groom are both graduates of the University of California and have been filling responsible positions in the Philippines for several years.

TRAINMEN ARE BADLY INJURED

Freight Trains Collide Near Pleasanton, Bringing Painful Results to Two.

PLEASANTON, April 11.—As the regular freight train was shifting at Verona last night a box car, standing on the main track without any light on it, was hit by a special engine, No. 1622, coming from Livermore to Niles. The engineer, Andrew Dolan, of Oakland, had his left leg broken, and the fireman, Martin Sutfield, had his head injured slightly. They were both taken to the Pleasanton Hotel, and Drs. Wells and Coe attended them. Today they were taken to the Receiving Hospital.

GUESTS GREET EACH OTHER

Rededication of Carnegie Institute Brings Many From Old World.

PITTSBURG, April 11.—The first ceremonies in connection with the rededication of the magnificent Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh, which will extend over three days began at 9:45 o'clock today when William N. Frew, president of the board of trustees, welcomed the invited guests from England, Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, South America, Canada and the United States, in the founder's room of the institute. The meeting was informal, and was for the purpose of introducing the guests.

At the close of the reception the museum and galleries of fine art, including the international annual exhibition of painting was inspected. The tour of inspection gave the visitors the first complete view of the institute buildings. Mayor George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Guthrie held a municipal reception in the foyer, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie.

A few minutes before noon the guests left the institute for the Hotel Schenley where luncheon was served.

VIM DISPLAYED AT MELROSE

Great Activity Noticeable in This Section—Streets Being Repaired.

MELROSE, April 11.—The streets around Melrose are being treated to a new coat of macadam and gravel. The steam roller is also at work and the result is most gratifying to the people. The Traction Company is doing similar good work in the neighborhood of Pittsburg.

Twenty cars of building material were on the siding yesterday. The scene around the business center was one of great activity. Everyone is working with a vim to push improvements.

Mrs. Castera is slightly improved in health, though still confined to her rooms, and the popular station agent is able to be at business again.

RIVALRY IN REAL ESTATE

Elmhurst Agents Attract Attention With Flaring Banners.

ELMHURST, April 11.—Great rivalry, of a most friendly character, however, exists between the competing real estate firms in Elmhurst. Flaring signs announce at one end of town that Phil Reilly has for sale at cut rate prices the only lots that are to be annexed to Oakland while B. Magnesson, at the other end, sports a banner which announces that he is authorized to dispose of the biggest proposition in the county at a price that would startle an ordinary citizen. Rich and poor, judging from the signs, can get anything they want here, but they would better be quick.

Elm Camp, No. 361, Woodmen of the World, will give an entertainment and dance next Saturday evening at Red Men's Hall.

The Suburban Gas and Electric Company will extend their gas mains from San Leandro to this burg in a few weeks. This addition to the comfort of the town has been long a desired improvement.

WILL NOT ACCEPT THIS WOMAN AS HIS WIFE

STARTER HOLTMAN OBJECTS TO STORY OF PRETTY WOMAN

"You Are My Husband," Says the Lady--"Show Me the License," Says the Racetrack Man.

J. J. Holtman, starter at the Emeryville track and well known race track man, created a sensation this morning in Judge Waste's court by filing an affidavit in opposition to taking a deposition in regard to his property which is asked by attorneys representing Mrs. Louise Bullock Holtman, who is suing the race track man for divorce in Kentucky on the ground of desertion.

Holtman causes quite a stir by claiming that he is not the husband of the stately brunette, who claims to have been wedded him in Los Angeles in January, 1906. Holtman says that he is being harassed by the legal proceedings taken by the pretty woman who alleges to be his wife, and who was denied alimony by the Kentucky courts. He states in his affidavit, which was read in Judge Waste's court this morning and hotly contested by the attorneys for both, that the plaintiff wrote a letter from the East some months ago to Attorney Earl Rogers of Los Angeles asking the lawyer to send her evidence that would indicate a marriage between herself and the Emeryville starter. She is said to have asked in the letter to Rogers that if he could not do any better, why to submit a blank marriage certificate.

Mrs. Holtman, or the pretty woman who calls herself such, asked the court to have Holtman take a deposition in this state in regard to his property. This the race track man strenuously objects to, because he firmly declares that he never was married to her and that she is only attempting to harass him and for no other reason has she instituted the action in the Kentucky courts.

The petite woman occupied a conspicuous position in the court room this morning and coached her attorneys in the arguments before Judge Waste. She frequently had to be quieted by the attorneys, because of the many volunteer remarks she made concerning answers to her alleged husband's affidavit.

The matter of the legality of their being married is scarcely to be considered by the courts in this state, for the divorce proceedings are vested in the Blue Grass state. Nevertheless, a warm contest is being fought to refrain Holtman from making any admissions concerning his wealth on the say of the woman with whom he claims to have no relations. Judge Waste has taken the matter under advisement.

TROUBLE OVER THEIR PAYROLLS

Warrants Issued Against Alleged Manipulators of Trolley Money.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The long pending troubles over pay rolls of the United Railroads being improperly handled came to a head this morning.

E. A. Maynard, head timekeeper for the company, swore out warrants for the arrest of Michael Bibbo, who had charge of some of the gangs of men, and the latter was arrested.

F. Murphy, who was under Bibbo, has strangely disappeared. It is alleged in the complaint that these defendants in the pay-roll amounted to $2000 a day and more.

UNDERTAKERS ARE GIVEN LAUGH BY REAL LIVE MAN

Went to Gather in Edward Servis, but Found Him Very Far From Being a Dead One.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—It is doubtful and highly improbable if Edward Servis, upon waking this morning, was aware of the fact that he was supposed to be dead, and that the coroner's wagon was at that moment on its way to his home to take his lifeless body to the morgue. It is true that his wife was not in the house, but what of that, for their lot at Ingleside was the size of a small ranch, and it was her custom to feed the chickens while the breakfast was simmering on the stove.

Servis got up and dressed as usual and sat down to read the paper, when he heard the sound of horses coming up the road.

He thought nothing of this, however, until the horses were pulling up in front of his own place, when he left his chair, and with paper in hand went to the door to see who his early visitors could be. What was his surprise when upon opening the door, to find two men hurrying up the walk with a basket, such as is used to remove dead bodies.

When the men with the basket saw the man at the door they both dropped the basket and turning, rushed frantically down the street. Servis followed, calling to them, but the faster he followed, the louder he called, the harder they ran. Servis, who is employed by the city, was acquainted with both the men and he was dumbfounded at their actions. At last he caught up and after appealing to them to tell him what was the cause of their strange antics, the fears of the morgue deputies left as they saw it was their old pal in real life.

They explained to him that a report had come to the morgue that he had died during the night and that they had hurried out to remove the body. As the three wended their way back to the Servis home Servis' wife, who had in the meantime finished her outside work, came out and called to her husband. The trio came up the walk just as her eyes caught sight of the morgue wagon and basket. More explanations followed and while all joined in on the laugh, Servis and the two deputies swore vengeance against the perpetrator of the hoax.

AUTO TRIP DELAYED THREE TIMES

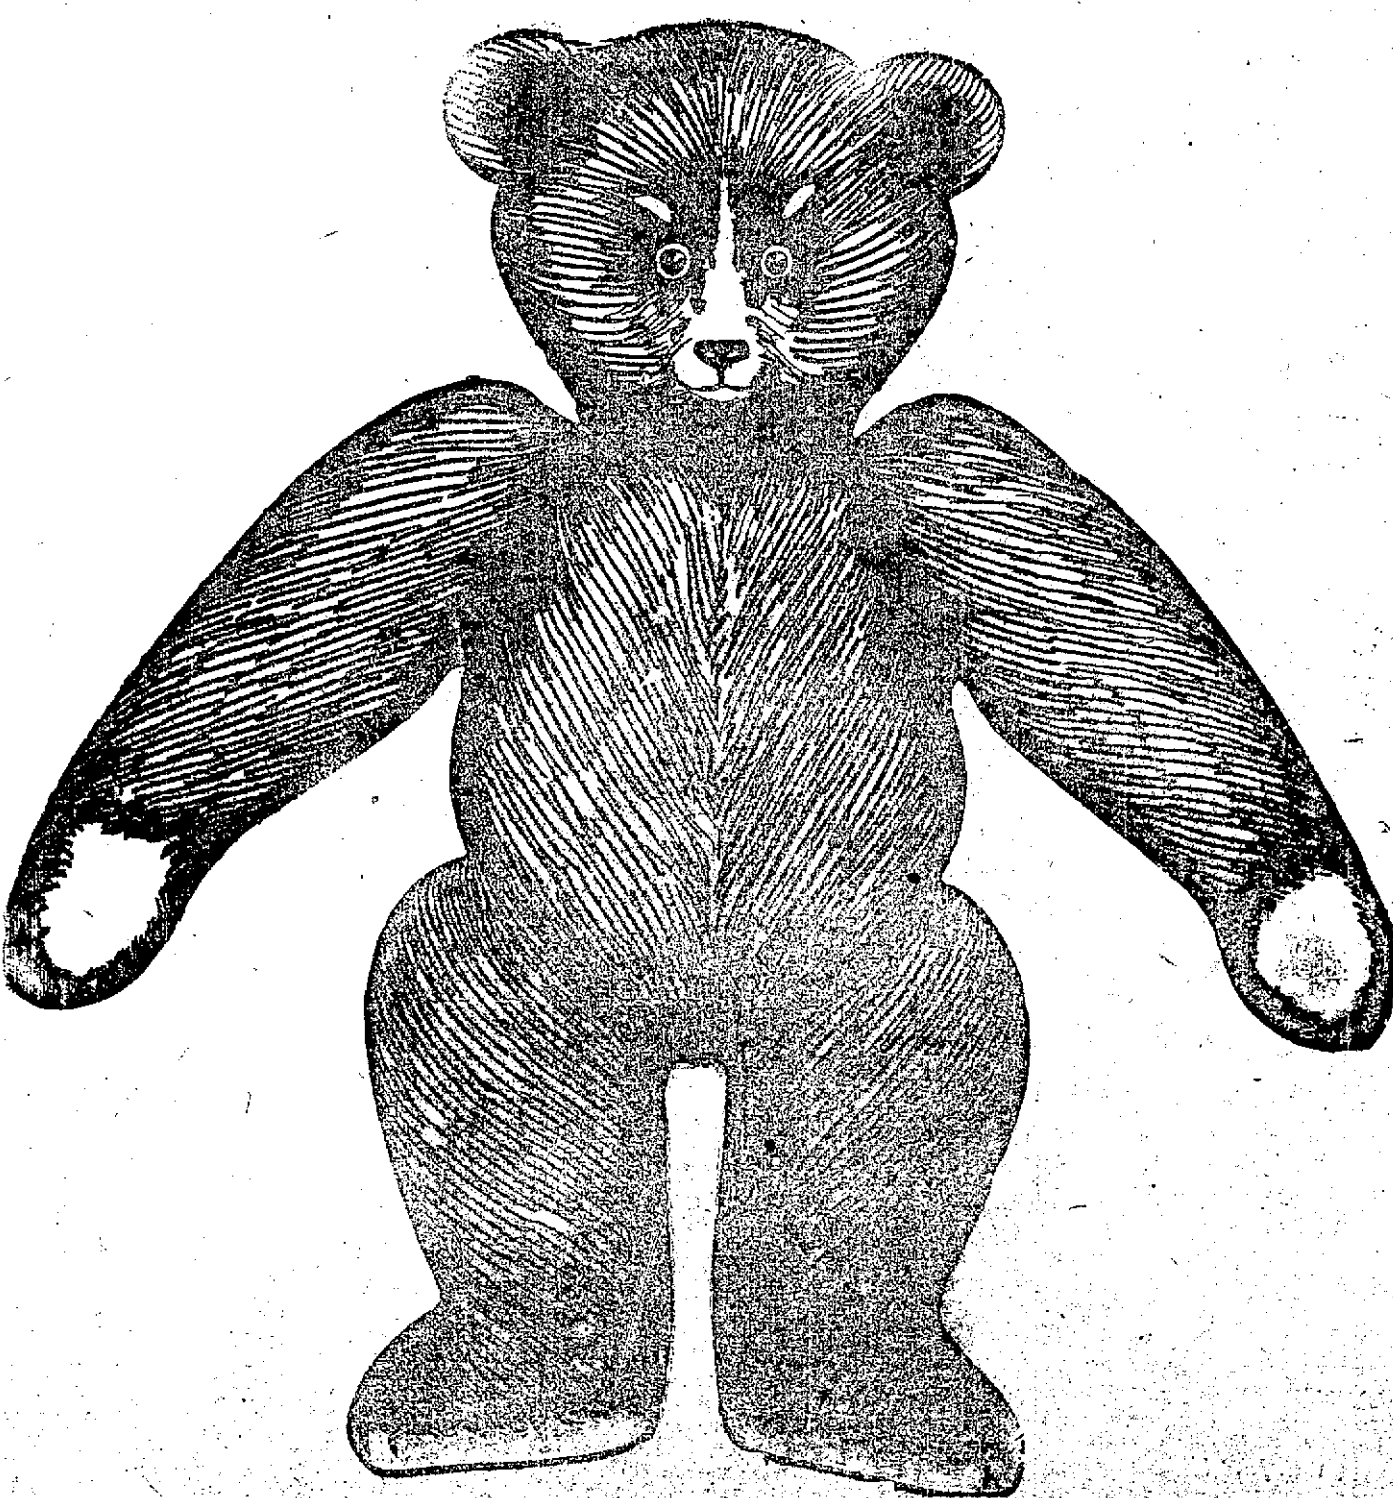

Peter White was chagrined this morning over the unpleasant automobile trip he took to the country yesterday afternoon with Sheriff Barnett. Before they got to High street the first auto broke and had to be returned to Oakland. The second was not much of an improvement. Long before the party reached Centerville, their proposed destination, three times went flat about the same time. Sheriff Barnett displayed considerable skill at working the pump, but Jailer White labored over the pump handle until huge blisters arose on his hands. This morning he is nursing them and says that he will never go automobilizing again.

"We were finally stopped in the road seven miles from nowhere and had to get a horse to take us into Centerville," declared White.

Sheriff Barnett and Jailer White went out to Centerville to transact business, principally gathering evidence in the murder case against William Santos, proprietor of the United States Hotel at Centerville. Santos is in the county jail on a charge of murder. He is accused of beating an Italian over the head with a beer bottle which caused the latter's death a few weeks ago.

San Francisco's Seals eased the hard-dejection settled down on a good San Francisco yesterday afternoon, winning the game by a score of 8 to 3.

The contest was fairly well played for so early in the season, but to say that it lacked snap and that the players lacked what horsemen are pleased to term grip, and high brows call verve is putting it mildly.

Mr. "Jaw" Gleason advertised the debut of Barney Joy Barney, however, did not debut. The big Honolulu went into training for this event, and was wearing decorative all of last week so that his debut would be a pronounced success.

Barney was not used to the new harness and Jack Gleason declares that he got a cold where Clarke wears her necklace.

Some of the fans were mean enough to doubt Jack's sense of location and declared that Barney had a cold all right, but they opined that the felices were in his feet.

At any rate Barney failed to come forth from his tepid, and gloom and dejection settled down on a good crowd, including Thompsons. Such, Old Kid, Doc and other gentlemen known more or less to baseball fame.

While Barney was hugging a radiator trying to thaw the ice out of his neck, or feet, as the case may be, Oscar Jones broke into the line of sight.

Oscar did not have anything but hopes and a prayer, but this was sufficient to stall those hard-belled athletes from Portland.

During the afternoon's festivities the Beavers lapped Jones for nine singles, but they could only comb three runs from this assortment of safeties.

Gum, who pitched for the lifeless wonders, was there all right, but what could the poor boy do?

He allowed the Seals only eight hits, but bad playing back of him, and down inability to locate the plate cost him the game.

In the third inning the Seals got revengeful and scored four runs. Then the ballooning commenced.

In the seventh inning the Seals added two more runs to their total, giving them the game with something to spare.

The game was devoid of snap and feature.

SAN FRANCISCO FIGHT PROMOTERS ARE UP-AGAINST IT THIS MONTH.

Sportman's Niche

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

FOR an assault on his wife Monk Coburn, a few short years ago, America's foremost rider, was sentenced to a fifteen months' term, which he began yesterday, at New Orleans.

One scribe in making reference to this case expressed his contrite sorrow that Coburn did not get fifteen years. This gentleman, in combination with other gentlemen, all gentlemen, in fact, is connected directly with the very institution which either directly or indirectly is responsible for Coburn and the Coburn propensities.

Some gentlemen look out of the window, and not into the mirror sufficiently. While their own minds are fortified over they don't care much who gets the canister.

The scribe who intimated Coburn fifteen years is an excellent fellow to set himself up as a paragon of the virtues.

Poor Coburn, like many another boy, has been the victim of unfortunate circumstances. Very few jockeys ever have any moral influences bent in their direction, and it is not of record that the usual race track cares overweeningly for the bringing up of a lot of boys, who, in the first place, are decadents. The judge at New Orleans, we take it, is a man of much probity, and looked back of the evils which beset Coburn, and are basing more modern Coburns. While he was about it, it is too bad that this scribe did not think of suggesting burning Coburn at the stake.

DON'T get discouraged with the new baseball language of the reporters. You'll get next to it. It's just as easy as Russian or Eskimo.

SEE if you can't get over the habit of knocking the home team when it hits a hard spot. That's a Cincinnati trick.

CHARLEY G. T. is alleged to be interested in a betting institution and some papers treat it as news. News is supposed to be something new.

TOM O'Rourke has introduced a bill to the upper ten of New York. Anything is lawful in little old New York if you make it a social event.

THAT defeat of Oakland yesterday was more of a credit than a disgrace. Any time a team spreads itself over the extra inning ground covered by the Commuters yesterday and then loses by only one run is going mightily.

PETER MAHER lasted until the second round of his fight with Marvin Hart, the bloomer champion. It takes a big loser's end to make Peter slick more than three minutes these days.

TURF INTERESTING NOTES ABOUT RACING MATTERS GOSSIP

By LEE DEMIER.

A varied and consequently interesting program was the subject of attraction at the Fair yesterday, and a large and enthusiastic gathering of race-lovers was in evidence. The card was made up of three long distance and three sprint affairs, of which the Black Rose Handicap at one mile and a sixteenth was the feature. This event attracted a small but select field and resulted in one of the closest finishes seen here this season, in fact, the public thought it on a rescue until the numbers dropped announcing Rapid Water, first, Vox Populi second and Massa third. Sam Liddeth's sterling performer was the 13 to 1 favorite, and an smashing good race. Getting away none too well, he picked up his field one by one and catching the pacemakers, he won by a nose. With a stronger ride at the end Cadotte would have been victorious. Hippocampus had a rough journey and dropped into the third hole. The start was a poor one—Jackall and Watchful being practically left.

A real upset marked the close of the day's proceedings, when Grace G., at the pleasing odds of 15 to 1, took the lead, after passing the half and just cantered home several lengths in advance of the favorite, Sugarmaid. The latter had no excuse. Royal Rogue easily annexed the show.

Tab Reservation. He just needed his last race.

The pace was too hot for King Cole's underpins.

Jack Keene said yesterday that he lost recently by death a valuable two-year-old colt by imported Inglesby-Semper Victorio. Keene refused an offer of $200 for the youngster. The name of the colt was Hilaro.

Johnny Miller lost heavily to Princess Titania.

Native Son, the top-heavy favorite in the five and one-half furlong sprint, wins blocks the best and made his field look cheap. Stover's good "bird" shot to the front early and there was nothing else to the race. Ocean Shore was right there all the way and easily held the place save from Nappa. The former was the hard to beat now on. Just before post time it was discovered that Pinkim was affected with an attack of the thumbs and the judges excused him, allowing twenty minutes for a new book.

The fifth race resulted in another exciting finish between Edwards, the favorite, and Cadotte, the second choice. The former had clear sailing and although flung at the end just managed to stagger in by a nose. With a stronger ride at the end Cadotte would have been victorious. Hippocampus had a rough journey and dropped into the third hole. The start was a poor one—Jackall and Watchful being practically left.

Eddie Kelly, who is playing them from the ground up, is holding his own.

Big Bill Knapp, who had the mount on Harvel, is a little shy in taking advantage of an opening. Wake up, Bill!

The Brooklyn Jockey club has announced the Westminister Handicap to close for entries Monday, April 22. As was the case last year, when it was won by Go Between, it is a dash, a mile and a quarter and of the guaranteed value of $10,000. It is practically a renewal of the Brooklyn Handicap and will receive the nominations of all the crack handicap horses of the time.

Nothing does not amount to much. Grafter broke down. Jackall got a mildew. Sugarmaid came so near and yet so far from being the candy.

Thirty-three books took care of the large Wednesday gathering.

Jockey Callahan is the making of a good rider. Great credit is due trainer Bob Campbell for getting Waswift in condition to run the race of his life the other day, when Andrew Mack moved out the old cripple. The Oaklanders cleaned up on the win of Grace G. Jockey Sandy made his reappearance yesterday. He made the weight on Gateway. Cricket Kelly put up one of the best rides on Vox Populi seen here in some time. Watchful and Jackall had no chance with the break. Roseben is working satisfactorily at Gravesend. A pony race between Jack, Keene's Rustle, Joe Jones' Marie, U. Z. De Arman's Asot and Cooper's Pinto will take place at Williams Park on Saturday.

EDDIE GRANNEY IS SEEKING TO MATCH THE AUSTRALIAN

"Honest Blacksmith" Would Hang Up a Purse for Squires and Some Top-notch American Heavy.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

The San Francisco promoters who have been idle for the past year have come to life and seem determined that the Antipodian wonder, who is due here Tuesday, will not get away from them. Eddie Granney is anxious to handle a match with Squires as one of the principals and would make a good bid for a contest in which he was to be one of the principals. Jim Coffroth is the first to make anything like an effort to get a contest, and has wired Tommy Burns, offering him a match with Squires on the 30th of May. Burns is at present tied up with O'Brien in Los Angeles and it is needless to say that he will not run out on the match if it can possibly be arranged. He is very friendly with McCarey; in fact, some think that Tom is his manager, and his anxiety to again hook up with the Quaker is also an inducement for him to stay in Los Angeles, if the match has the least chance of coming off. The Burns-O'Brien match was scheduled to come off on May 6th, during the festa week, but the time is growing near and the men have not as yet signed the final articles or posted any forfeits, and McCarey has not posted the purse of $30,000 that he was in such a hurry to bid, for the second meeting for the pair, it hardly seems likely that the contest will come off now as the time is so close that O'Brien would hardly have time to get in good shape and as he suffered a surprise the last time he met Burns he will take no more chances with the Canadian. Burns is doing light work in Los Angeles and is already in fair condition and ready to go on with his part of the agreement. From present appearances it would seem that the chances of the pair meeting in May are slim and Burns may be induced by Coffroth to meet the Australian in Frisco. Coffroth intends to handle the affair something after the style that the Britt-Nelson fight was brought off. If for any reason the Supervisors held up the granting of a permit James would take the match to Colma and hold it on the afternoon of May 30th. If he is successful in landing the permit the contest will take place in the Auditorium Skating Rink, which is the finest building of its kind in Frisco. Coffroth has made arrangements with the management whereby he will have the exclusive use of the large pavilion to hold fights in.

Tomorrow night the Los Angeles fans are to witness what should be a fast and hard fought contest between two of the premier slugging lightweights of the country. Jimmy Burns, who is also known as George Menst, and Cyclone Johnnie Thompson are listed as the main attraction. Thompson is at a weight for this fight that he will be good at and how different he will fight, to the way he fought in San Francisco with Dick Hyland, can only be imagined by those who have seen him in action when in good form. Burns has an awful wallop in either hand, and if he is successful in landing on the Cyclone and does not put him away then it must be conceded that he is as tough as Daffling Nelson. Burns in his fights with Neary gave evidence of great improvement and through his clever defeat of the Milwaukee lad who had up to that time been considered a championship possibility has become one of the recognized top notchers in his class. If Thompson beats him, there is a chance of his being matched with either Gans or Nelson in Frisco, a match between he and Britt would be a great card but the native son has no desire to hook up with the tough Cyclone.

BREEZY CHIT CHAT OF THE GAME

The Portland team is certainly and truly a harmless lot of ball players.

Don't forget that Oakland opens at home at Freeman's Park next Tuesday afternoon.

McCredie and Stanton both rapped out two hits off of Jones yesterday.

Thirteen was an unlucky number for those Commuters at Los Angeles yesterday.

Spencer was the only one of the Seals to gather more than one hit.

Portland reminds one of the New York Giants. They play so differently.

The opposing pitchers were as wild as March hares. Each hurler walked seven men.

Spencer, Moller and Morality each pilfered a sack in the Seals-Beaver game at San Francisco yesterday afternoon.

We hope the fans won't overwork that "Oh Joy" gag merely because Barney is pitching for the Seals.

Both Carlisle and Ellis rapped out three hits each at Los Angeles yesterday afternoon.

Van Haltren continues to be there with the bat. He rapped out three safe hits during that thirteen innings of turmoil at Los Angeles yesterday.

Helmutter, Eagan, Hackett and Wright each pilfered the Los Angeles pitchers for two hits.

Wright must be a rather fair sort of hitter. Twice he managed to rapped out two hits, which is going some for a pitcher.

Smith, Biggie and Deveraux were the three Commuters who failed to get a hit at Los Angeles yesterday.

Delmas seems to be as effective with the bat as his noted namesake is with his tongue.

Cravath has bloomed out as an infielder in the Los Angeles line up. Carlisle must be a regular Indian. It was his hit that practically broke up the game at Los Angeles yesterday.

ST. MARY'S OAKLAND IN WIN SLOW GAME RARE OLD GAME

The Phoenix team of St. Mary's College one of the best amateur organizations in baseball (triumphed the Victory team of Stanford University on the latter's own ballfield yesterday afternoon by a score of 8 to 2.)

St. Mary's played a far more cogent and logical form of baseball than did the Cardinal warriors, and the score is a fair indication of the relative strength of the teams.

St. Mary's boys put up their usual glitzy game, and their hits had elasticity and consistency.

The Phoenix team also displayed considerable pepper in the field, and their work was of the clean-cut style. Stanford's work on the bases and in the field was very much below the form a university team should display.

Jack Bliss of the Blue and Gold nine hit his first homer at Stanford yesterday, and after a brief practice they became spectators at the game. Bliss expressed confidence in his boys to do as much for the Cardinal team as did the St. Mary's team yesterday. The score:

LOS ANGELES, April 11.—Oakland's Commuters put up one of the fastest and snappiest games of baseball ever seen in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and only succumbed to the Angels by a score of 7 to 6 after thirteen innings of sensational baseball.

The game was featureful throughout, and batting of the Donnybrook order, and fielding of a snappy variety were on tap in every spasm.

During the game three home runs were made.

Cates and Wright did the pitching for Van Haltren's men and their work was superb.

The thirteenth inning opened with the score of 6 to 5 in Oakland's favor. A lucky home run by Delmas and single by Eagan, Hogan, Nagle and Carlisle broke up the game.

Inflammable captured the long distance race by a nose from Iraq. The former was favorite at 9 to 5 and was given an excellent ride by Grote. The boy saved ground all the way, made his move at the right time and in a terrific drive crowd burst forth into long and deafening applause.

Sure-thing players fell with an awful thud in the opening race, when Harvel, carrying tons of money at 3 to 5, failed to connect with the wire. The De Arman colt shot to the front early and set a hot pace, but in the rush for home allowed Adena to out-game him. The latter was not fazed by any means, reeling quite a play at 6's, and ran a game race, coming from away back and winning with something to spare. Col. Widow, the second choice, had no trouble beating the others. Wahoo, a new one from the Keene farm, made a clever showing, and is well worth bearing in mind.

BERKELEY TO STAR EVENTS HAVE GOOD TEAM EXPECTED HERE

The Berkeley High School intends to enter a very strong team in the field day meet of the Academic Athletic League scheduled for next Saturday.

Harlowe, Rathbone and Campbell are said to form a sprinting trio that will be hard to beat. Service and Moss are in the 440 and it is believed that it will be no easy matter to beat these winged-footed young men.

Elbridge will represent the team in the 220 yard hurdle race.

That the Stanford athletes will have a hard tussle Saturday when they meet the winged O gentlemen from the Olympic Club of San Francisco is the expert testimony of more than one competent witness.

The meet is to take place Saturday forenoon, and the Olympic Club will be represented by the same men who took the measure of the California athletes recently.

Some excellent contests are looked for when these teams meet Saturday morning.

The features were a one hand catch ball pulled off by the Young Oaks, Bankhead to Sperry, Sperry to McBain; Bankhead to McBain. The line-up was: Andrews, right field; Lachenbach, third base; Bankhead, shortstop; Fartown, centerfield; Helmold, left field; Sperry, second base; Hansen, pitcher; McBain, first base; Murrillo, catcher; Grainger, pitcher and center field.

The Young Oaks issue a challenge to any team averaging 14 years. Address all challenges to W. McBain, 864 1-2 Isabella street, Oakland.

The California team of Oakland journeyed to Mare Island and defeated the Marines in a closely contested game by the score of 4 to 3. The game was full of ginger throughout and marked by clever fielding of "Mickey" McKown on short and Tony Larue on the box for the California and pitched a great game. Lefty, who was injured in a fall game four months ago, is just out of the hospital, and did well. The score was as follows:

The Oakland Polytechnic High baseball team journeyed to Centerville last Saturday and played its first league game with the fast high school team of that town, defeating them by a score of eight to one. The game was full of brilliant plays, the chief features being Skaggs' clever pitching, striking out fifteen men, and the heavy hitting and superb fielding of the whirling team. Fast fielding on the part of the Centerville players prevented the "Poly" score from being much larger. The Cent

Athletic Notes.

All is practically arranged for the Reliance Athletic club's high jumps and annual election on the night of April 18 and the program as it now stands promises to be one of the most entertaining ever given at the club. Among the features on the program for the evening is an act of Jiu Jitsu by an expert, an aerial stunt by Avil and De Elma, the famous Reliance quartette and others.

CLUB RUN. A blind club tramp has been arranged for April 23—Sunday morning—and the fact that the destination is unknown to the members adds to the zest of the occasion. Physical Instructor Rittler and other instructors of the club have the affair in hand and promise a good time to all who attend.

BASEBALL. Frank R. McDonald a comparatively new member of the club but one who has proven himself a decidedly active acquisition, is to manage and captain the new Reliance Baseball team now being formed and as he is an eastern ball player of some note will undoubtedly pilot the nine to victory on the diamond. He is now at work on the line up which will be announced shortly. On April 24 a whist party is to be held at the club for the benefit of the team and valuable prizes will be awarded. The Reliance expects to win a bunch of laurels this year at baseball and will shortly be open to challenges.

THE SACRED HEART TO PLAY BALL

The Sacred Heart College and Wilmerding nines will meet on the campus of St. Mary's College Saturday morning. The boys are in good shape and should put up one of the best games thus far played in the sub-academic league.

Many competent judges regard these teams as the two best in the sub-league and next Saturday's contest should be full of life and action. The line-up Saturday will be as follows:

Sacred Heart. Wilmerding, McCarthy, Pitcher; Trowbridge, Smith (Capt.), Catcher; Grinnell, Sullivan, First base; Merchant (C), Doran, Second base; Chandler, Butler, Third base; Brannagie, Schirmer, Short; Vitti, Kelley, Left field; Willison, Burke, Right field; Stromburg, Rohm, Center field; Girot, Becker.

Mrs. James Dunlop secured a warrant the other day charging her husband with assault and made the arrest herself, and then when her irate spouse was found guilty in Municipal Court she paid his fine and took him home with her.

"Well, this is really the most novel affair in the way of dealing out justice that has so far been brought to my official attention," said Judge Windom. "When I imposed the fine of $10 and costs I was not aware that the wife was going to foot the bill, but now that she has found out that she is, I will remit the costs."

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop reside on Mesaba avenue and have a number of children. He is a laborer and when not drinking is a good husband. Recently, however, he went away on a "foot" and did not show up at home until the other day. His wife upbraided him for his action and he slapped her.

"For the children's sake I do not care to have my husband go to jail," Mrs. Dunlop told the Court. "When I got the bill I paid it and let him go."

STORM-CLOUDS DISAPPEAR AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Members Hold Rousing Election Which Is Believed to Indicate End of Recent Controversy.

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—We naturally feel a little disappointed that the people did not turn out and vote as they had promised to. The entire vote did not represent one-fifth of the membership roll. The trouble was the publicity given this campaign frightened the more timid ones and they stayed away.

A number of members have already told me that they intended withdrawing their letters and support from the church. I should be the last one to advise such a move and will urge them to stand by the church more than ever before.

In regard to my suspension, I cannot say at this time what I will do, but as long as I think myself to be in the right I shall stand by it.

W. N. JENKINS.

The gossip-saturated storm center which has been hovering ominously over the First Presbyterian Church for the past few weeks was dispelled last night at one of the largest annual meetings ever held in the history of that church.

Reverendations, retractions and all other ugly-sounding insinuations in vocabulary of scandal disappeared. The first tangible result of this clearing of the black skies was the election of the new church into immediate consideration.

The purchase of a lot for the new building at the corner of Harrison and Nineteenth streets for the sum of $37,500 was approved.

Although the final vote for the location of the church at this place will be decided at the next meeting of the newly-elected board of trustees, the prevailing opinion is that this site will be chosen by the whole congregation. Should the church decide upon a different location, the Harrison street property will be disposed of by the trustees. The new church is to cost approximately $200,000.

TERMINATE RIVALRY.

The rivalry between the two factions was terminated in the election of a board of trustees favorable to the Rev. E. Z. Baker's ideas. W. N. Jenkins, who was suspended from the board of trustees for alleged defamations of character of Dr. G. Edwin Brinckerhoff, was replaced on the board by the election of W. I. Reed, a compromise candidate. Mr. Reed is the only new member. Otherwise the board remains as follows: D. Edward Collins, James P. Taylor, Dr. G. Edwin Brinckerhoff, E. F. Wehne, Arvin Ayres and Arthur L. Adams.

W. H. Knight was elected president, D. Edward Collins, treasurer; A. L. Adams, secretary, and J. M. Gardener, treasurer of the benevolent fund.

It was also decided to have an assistant pastor for the coming year. The sum of $1200 to be the salary of the official has already been subscribed. An additional $1000 was subscribed for the decoration and rearing of the chancel and primary Sunday school class.

These two items were especially subscribed and are not included in the $15,000, the receipts for the past year. The expenditures were $14,150.

REGENT'S CHARGES.

"While I am naturally very much pleased at the result of the election, it is regretted that so much misunderstanding and heart-biting should have been injected into the business of the church," declared Dr. Baker this morning.

"We prefer to believe that Mr. Jenkins' charges against Dr. Brinckerhoff emanated from high-minded, though mistaken motives, rather than from any malicious intent to injure the character of a fellow member."

The charges, when faced in the open, were not substantiated. In fact, there is an amiable understanding all around and it is found that a great deal of the friction was caused by loose talk on the part of unauthor-

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Josephine Smith, the dance hall habitue, who was robbed and beaten by a thug at a late hour Tuesday night, noticed a man whom she recognized as the person who attacked her, loitering on Montgomery street at an early hour this morning and notified the police.

Tra police, a little later, arrested Louis Pazio, a sailor, on Montgomery and Green streets. At the station he was positively identified by his victim as being the man who had robbed and beaten her. He was booked on a charge of robbery and battery.

SET RULES IN REGARD TO WEARING OF HATS

There is a set of rules about hats and their wearers that should be rigidly followed.

If a woman has a thin face and is inclined to be over-featured, let her beware of hats that go up off her face. This kind of hat only tends to outline her defects and she should choose a hat that is brought well forward.

Her hair too should be loosely arranged and never drawn back in a plain fashion. Sharp or smart hats should be almost avoided and fancy edges adopted.

If one has features that look good at a casual glance but will not bear inspection a hat crushed in and pulled out with many corners and angles will be her most becoming design.

This tends to mystify and one finds herself unwilling to investigate—the effect is too good to be true.

A small face should deal warily with the picture hat. It is very liable to have its saving graces drowned in the depths of the enormity and should never be attempted by any one who has not the height sufficient to carry it.

A well formed face can show off most any model and it is with this sort of face in view that most designs are created.

CAUSE OF BUNIONS.
Bunions are caused by ill-fitting shoes. All pressure on the joint should be relieved. The bunion may be protected with a disk for this purpose. Plunging the foot into water as hot as can be borne will often relieve the soreness.

icated individuals not connected with the church management at all.

"The controversy has solidified the zeal of those who had the interests of the church at heart as was clearly shown by last night's vote, which was almost four times as large as at former elections. Moreover, the matter of building the new church was accelerated by the approval of the recent purchase of the probable site."

ELECTION IS VICTORY.

"Last night's election may be regarded as a victory for the older members of the congregation, as opposed to the younger faction—this is the auxiliary societies, whose objection has been against what they termed the ultra-conservative policy of the old board in its financial policy. Naturally, we all desire a new church, but there is no especial need for urging its erection at the possible sacrifice of our property. We value the present site at Fourteenth and Webster at $400,000 and might part with it at this figure."

VOTING ANIMATED.

The voting was decidedly animated, but the victory for Dr. Baker's adherents was never in doubt from the beginning. The vote was as follows: D. Edward Collins 238, James P. Taylor 219, D. G. Edwin Brinckerhoff 217, E. F. Wehne 220, W. I. Reed 224, Arvin Ayres 340, Arthur L. Adams 342. Reed, Ayres and Adams were also on the Gibson ticket, which explains why they ran so far ahead of the other names on the church ticket.

The Gibson ticket received the following votes: C. N. Walter 125, George Kirk 120, J. T. Bell 118, J. W. Feinick 123.

"As for the charges that Mr. Jenkins preferred against Dr. Brinckerhoff when he alleged that the latter routed property to Chinese gamblers, the story was traced to its source and found to be untrue," added Dr. Baker. "It seems that some one called Mr. Jenkins' attention to some mysterious orange-colored strips of paper posted on the Brinckerhoff property, and some Chinese was interpreted the symbols as advertising gambling and other vice, when in reality the Chinese advertised that they had rooms for rent. There was quite a laugh when this was stated, but the Jenkins faction preferred not to see the joke that had been played on them," continued Dr. Baker with cautious good humor, after having first intimated that he preferred to drop all references to the scandalous allegations made by Mr. Jenkins.

TO TAKE NO ACTION.

"No, there will be no action taken that I know of. There will hardly be any suspension of members, and I have heard of no intimation of any withdrawals of membership."

JENKINS TALKS.

When questioned as to his side of the controversy, Mr. Jenkins denied there would be any retractions.

"We have nothing to retract, as the assertions alleged to have been made by me were, in fact, not made by me at all," said Jenkins. "In regard to my suspension, I cannot say at this time what I will do. A number of members have already told me they intended withdrawing their letters from the church, but I cannot speak definitely to others," declared Mr. Jenkins, thus leaving the matter unsettled so far as he was concerned.

At the meeting next Wednesday night elders and deacons for next year will be elected.

HOW TO APPLY SKIN FOOD TO FEATURES

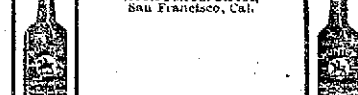

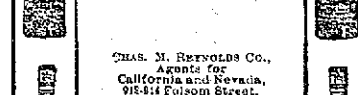

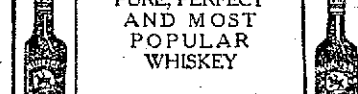

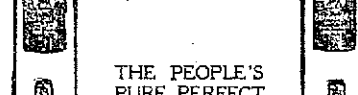

When applying a skin food see to it that the manipulations of the finger ends continue long enough to force a large quantity of the emollient into the skin. Only the finest, purest ingredients should be used. Cosmetics made entirely of vegetable oils cannot be preserved of any great length of time. Those creams that last forever are not made of almond oil, but are compounded of white vaseline, ben-zoinated mutton tallow or lard.

CURIOUS STORY TOLD.
A curious story is that of a diamond engagement ring which the Possessor was apt to leave lying about. The girl married and left her home. A great pet in the shape of a long-haired little Yorkshire terrier, accompanied her to her new home. One day she had this little dog on her knee, and was caressing the long, silky hair, which grew over and covered its paws, when she espied something sparkling. She had noticed for some time that the animal seemed to have something irritating one of its paws and was continually biting at it. To make a long-story short she discovered, fixed firmly on the claw of the little foot, the lost diamond ring. The claw had quite grown round it, and it had to be cut in order to release the ring. The ring probably must have been lying on the floor and somehow or other got caught in the hair; but how it could have remained there for months without dropping off or being noticed is very remarkable.
